Empowering Organisations through Strategic Advisory, Capacity Building, Facilitation & Strategic Programmes

Translate your Social compliance, Human rights, and Responsible business commitments into influence, shaping regulations, industry norms, and stakeholder behaviour through evidence, narrative, and coalition-building.

Background

Responsible Business is a shared risk. It demands clarity on how stakeholders in an organisation understand their roles, responsibilities, influence, and impact on people across value chains.

P/ PRABHA means impact and PRABHAVEE influences.

P/ PRABHAVEE supports this shift by helping organisations interpret and navigate risk, strengthen governance and accountability, and embed ethical systems, processes, and practices with clarity and intent across operations and supply chains. P/ PRABHAVEE helps organisations translate responsible business commitments into action through Strategic Advisory, Training & Capacity Building, Facilitation, and Strategic Programmes.

We work with diverse stakeholders, including companies of all sizes, Academic institutions, Civil Society Organisations, Research and Advocacy centres, Multi-stakeholder platforms, UN Agencies, Working Groups, Business chambers, Industry Associations, and Coalitions, to translate the complexity of the nexus of business and human rights into an actionable strategy.

Our Mission

To serve as a trusted strategic partner, enabling businesses to embed responsible business practices and human rights commitments at the core of decision-making through strategy, systems and accountability.

Our Vision

To be the Centre of Excellence in Strategic Capacity Building — advancing rights-based development and responsible business conduct.

Brief Context

From responsible business commitments to influence.

Organisations today operate in an environment where regulation, stakeholder expectations, public discourse, and business responsibility are increasingly interconnected.

P/ PRABHAVEE helps organisations navigate this landscape by translating their commitments on human rights, social sustainability, labour, governance and responsible business into credible policy positions, compelling narratives and meaningful stakeholder engagement.

We work at the intersection of policy, business, society and communication—helping organisations understand emerging issues, identify strategic entry points, build coalitions and shape conversations that matter.

Our Approach

1. EVIDENCE: Policy intelligence & issue analysis
2. NARRATIVE: Positioning & strategic communication
3. ENGAGEMENT: Stakeholder relations & coalition building
4. INFLUENCE: Advocacy & policy discourse

We combine policy intelligence, stakeholder analysis, strategic communication and advocacy to help organisations:

- Anticipate and respond to regulatory and policy developments
- Identify emerging risks, opportunities and entry points
- Build informed positions on complex social and governance issues
- Engage government, industry, civil society, workers and other stakeholders
- Develop credible narratives grounded in evidence and responsible business principles
- Build partnerships and coalitions around shared priorities
- Contribute meaningfully to policy and industry discourse

Areas of Focus and Value Proposition

Building strategic alignment across regulation, business practice and stakeholder expectations.

Our work focuses particularly on the Social and Governance dimensions of ESG, where regulatory developments, responsible business conduct, business practices and stakeholder expectations intersect.

We help organisations identify synergies between local regulation, labour standards, business and human rights principles and responsible business practice—and translate these into actionable strategies for engagement and influence.

Strategic Focus Areas

Shaping the Human side of business practice through policy, engagement and influence.
